Note: I've marked four books with * as the ones I most recommend, with a few words of explanation.

Baker-Fletcher, Karen. Sisters of Dust, Sisters of Spirit: Womanist Wordings on God and Creation. Minneapolis: Fortress Press, 1998.

*Benjamin, Ruha. Viral Justice: How We Grow the World We Want. Princeton: Princeton University Press, 2022.

Note: Dr. Benjamin writes from a personal and sociological perspective and I found her thoughts on interdependence to be formative for my ideas. This book isn't focused on ecology but on ethics.

Gebara, Ivone. Longing for Running Water: Ecofeminism and Liberation. Minneapolis: Fortress Press, 2003.

*Gerfaor, Sierra-Marie. "Leaning into Interconnectedness." In Love at the Center: Unitarian Universalist Theologies. Boston: Skinner House, 2024.

*Goodenough, Ursula. The Sacred Depths of Nature: How Life Has Emerged and Evolved. Second edition. New York: Oxford University Press, 2023.

Note: This is the book I heartily recommend for an introduction to religious naturalism. You can also find numerous insightful interviews with Dr. Goodenough on YouTube; here's a short one: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=PiZIlkOFPZI>

Green Sanctuary Monthly Gathering - October 2023: UU Theological Grounding for Climate Justice, 2024. <https://vimeo.com/1020738486>.

Note: For Rev. Dr. Sofia Betancourt's thoughts on interdependence, start at 20:30 for the theological conversation

Kidwell, Clara Sue, Homer Noley, and George E. Tinker. A Native American Theology. Maryknoll, N.Y: Orbis Books, 2001.

McFague, Sallie. A New Climate for Theology: God, the World, and Global Warming. Minneapolis: Fortress Press, 2008.

*Prud'homme, Sheri. "Ecotheology." In Justice on Earth: People of Faith Working at the Intersections of Race, Class, and the Environment. Boston: Skinner House, 2018.

Note: I've highlighted Rev. Sheri's chapter, but I highly recommend this whole book (whose title I couldn't come up with in the talk).

Ruether, Rosemary Radford. Gaia & God: An Ecofeminist Theology of Earth Healing. San Francisco: Harper, 1992.

Salazar, Marilú Rojas. "Experiences and Reflection on a Latin American Feminist Theology of Liberation Using an Ecofeminist Key Towards an Indigenous Women's Perspective." The Ecumenical Review 62, no. 4 (December 2010).
